13. HURRIYET (CUKUROVA): The Hatay Municipality rejected the appeal of South Korean Protestants to obtain a license to officially name a church, which Protestants established in Hatay as a "place of worship." It did so on the grounds that there were currently no Protestants living in Hatay. A religious officer from South Korea has been assigned to the church and worship has started following permission from the Hatay Governor. Tradesmen in the neighboring environs, however, are reportedly disturbed that fifty children are visiting the church daily, reports the paper.

People are reportedly frustrated with the amounts settled by the commission and will resort to legal means to receive "fair" amounts.

18. CUMHURIYET/ZAMAN/OZGUR GUNDEM/HURRIYET: The PKK/Kongra-Gel terrorist organization reportedly told the Mesopotamian News agency that military operations, which were intensified in Tunceli following the kidnapping of private Coskun Kirandi, were placing the soldier's life in danger.
